

ARCHITECTURAL SERVICES RFP #16-07

Questions & Answers Submitted to the City Website on November 12, 2015

1. In order to attract qualified architectural firms to respond to this RFP, you might need to adjust your budget. In addition, although the scope of work is clearly written, the following sentence says "other related work may be required as requested by the City's project manager." With a tight budget like this, it's difficult effectively manage your time when there may be request for additional work.

The City is seeking "hand drawn" sample elevations of 4 different types of architecture that would be within the allotted budget; only looking for street elevations (front elevations) of four different architectural styles, hand-drawn. The City does not need floor plans, CAD drawings, etc. These are only architectural concept drawings that basically reskin or change the exterior facades of projects that have already been built, for example. These are illustrative only.
