Monica McNeil

Illustration & Painting

The common thread that runs throughout the majority of Monica McNeil's pieces is the connection to music, nature, sports, and animals. She has been painting shoes for the last ten years and the various topics and themes help her to continue creating unique pairs of shoes while utilizing different styles of painting. The opportunity to paint on surfboards as a new medium posed a challenge for her, but also gave her the chance to create beautiful pieces on something new and unknown. Monica has recently gone back to school to achieve a certificate in Graphic Design which has led her to develop her illustration skills. When she takes on one endeavor, it almost always leads to new discoveries and new inspirations. Her artwork is constantly developing, changing and evolving. Monica is very excited to continue creating and to see what direction her art will take from here.
